

Many people stay with a carrier only because switching results in changing their mobile telephone number. Keeping the same number is very convenient for all consumers and very essential to all business. Personally I have stayed with carriers only because I need to project continuity to my customers.